

Photographs by CHRISTINE COTTER Los Angeles Times

Where All the Lights Are Bright

With a foggy night as a backdrop, Los Angeles-based artists cast digital projections, 3-D light sculptures and other works as part of the Autumn Lights exhibition in the Eli and Edythe Broad Plaza at the downtown Caltrans building Saturday. Green lights swirled in a laser light show on the walls and windows of City Hall South, across the street. The one-night event was put on by Gallery Row Organization, a group of 17 downtown L.A. art galleries.

